

The College Writing Program proudly announces the

2008 Undergraduate Writing Colloquium Awards

NATURAL and APPLIED SCIENCES

Heather Jack, “Activation of the Infant Fusiform Area by Faces and Objects of Expertise”

Written for: Lab in Development and Learning (BCS 205), Professor Richard Aslin

Honorable Mention

Andrew Otis, “Wind Power for Cape Cod?”

SOCIAL SCIENCES

Erica Wellington, “Toward Health Care Success in Northern Nigeria: Integrating Polio Eradication Efforts into a Comprehensive Health Care System”

Written for: Colonial and Contemporary Africa (HIS 106), Professor Elias Mandala

Honorable Mention

Heidi Knoblauch, “Scientific Illustration, Politics, and Gender Representation in Post-Enlightenment France”

HUMANITIES

Melissa Smith, “It’s All in Their Heads: King Lear and the Gods”

Written For: Shakespeare (ENG 210), Professor Kenneth Gross

Honorable Mention

Andrew Green, “Eating the Other: Germans, German Turks, and the Doner Kebab”

CAS 105/105E

Meghan Gilligan, “The Convent of Pleasure: Domestic Expectations and the Reality of Eluding Such as an Early Modern Woman, as Illustrated by Margaret Cavendish”

Written for: Shakespeare’s Peeps (CAS 105), Jennifer Ailles

Honorable Mention

Katie Bartolotta, “Dangers of the Editorial Hand: A Comparison of A Writer’s Diary to The Diary of Virginia Woolf in the Portrayal of Virginia Woolf”